Who do I contact with questions on the Premium Audit process?

A commercial premium audit is a methodical examination of a policyholder's operations, records, and books to determine the actual insurance exposure for the coverage provided. The need for premium audits arises because many insurance policies, including Workers' Compensation, General Liability, and Contractor policies are based on estimates when underwritten. These policy types provide for an adjustment of the premium according to the exposures actually incurred during the policy term.

We conduct a premium audit on all commercial new business (with audible exposures) within 60 days of the expiration date of the policy. Premium audits may be physical audits with an independent auditor making an appointment with you to review financial and business records, or it may be in the form of a self-audit mailed to you for completion and return. If you have questions about the audit process, need to request an audit worksheet, or need to dispute a commercial audit, please contact the Premium Audit Customer Service line at 800 877-0600 ext. 7236 during business hours. Claims

When should I report a loss under one of my policies?

As soon as possible! Reporting a loss to us promptly allows us to respond to you in a timely manner and provide compensation on covered losses to you or others for whom you may be responsible for their damages. Failure to promptly report a claim could adversely impact coverages that would normally be available under your policy.

I've just been involved in an auto accident. What should I do?

- Stop your vehicle and move it to a safe location. The law requires you to stop at the accident scene.
- Check all parties for injuries and call for medical assistance if needed.
- Call the police. The police will advise you if their response to the scene is necessary.
- Do not admit fault to anyone, as there could be multiple factors contributing to an accident. Give factual details of your recollection of the accident, and cooperate with the police in providing answers to their questions.
- Exchange information with the other parties involved in the accident. Names, addresses, telephone numbers, type and ownership of vehicles, insurance information, and description of damages are important information to obtain.
- Try to identify any witnesses. Obtain their names, addresses, and telephone numbers.
- If possible, take photos of the accident scene prior to the involved vehicles being moved.
- If your vehicle needs to be towed, request that it be taken to a repair shop of your choice.
- As soon as possible, contact your agent to report the accident or click here for information on how to report the accident directly to us. Our new loss reporting telephone lines are open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

The roof surface of our home was just damaged by a severe windstorm and rainwater is leaking into the interior of our house. What should we do?

- Immediately contact a contractor of your choice to make reasonable and necessary emergency repairs to protect your property from further damage or loss.
- Keep a record of repair costs and retain receipts for any expenditure.
- If possible, take photos of the damages.
- As soon as possible, contact your agent to report the accident or click here for information on how to report the accident directly to us. Our new loss reporting telephone lines are open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

While driving down the road, a stone hit the windshield of my car and chipped the glass. What should I do?

If you purchased "Other Than Collision" (Comprehensive) coverage for your vehicle, you can use our EZGLASS Auto Glass Repair/Replacement Program to repair or replace damage to your windshield or side or back windows. You can click here for more information on how to contact this service directly.

At your option, a customer service representative will help schedule an appointment to perform repairs at a quality glass shop in our EZGLASS network, or a repair shop of your choice. If your windshield needs to be replaced, you will need to pay any applicable deductible to the repair shop, and the repair shop will bill us directly for the balance. However, if your windshield can simply be repaired without replacing the glass, we will waive your deductible.

Is insurance fraud really a significant problem?

YES! We generally identify insurance fraud issues in two areas of our business, and both have an adverse impact on you as a consumer. First, the submission of fraudulent claims is an increasing problem, and second, false or incomplete information is being submitted by individuals for the purpose of obtaining a lower price for the insurance products they want to purchase. Both of these fraudulent activities adversely impact honest consumers by increasing the costs of insurance for everyone. If you identify someone who is committing insurance fraud, you can help by contacting our Special Investigation Unit at 800 877-0600. (NJ)
